FRIDAY, AUGUST 31, 1877.

Local Intelligence.

SATURDAY.

The Board of Supervisors has adjourned until Monday September 3d.

Dr. Day is hauling the brick to build on the octagon foundation this side of the school house.

Joe Shooler is making the alley back of Ralib's fairly shine. He is cleaning it up so nicely, and hauling the rubbish away in his wagon.

Mrs. MacMahon will receive the Golden Rose, and not Mrs. General Sherman. Who is to receive a ribbon.

Rev. A. M. Campbell will preach next Sunday at the M. E. Church, West Prescott, morning and evening. Subject for morning "The Weight of the Little Finger" and for the evening, "The Doom of Jerusalem."

We are frequently asked if Dr. Goodfellow is still in the practice of medicine, of course we presume he is, though no public announcement is made of the fact or of where he may be found.

H. Miller has discovered a mine which he calls the Silver Chamber, situated in Humboldt district that is represented to be a large vein and very rich. We have no further particulars.

George Waters has put a pump in the Public well in the plaza, and the builders of the new Court-house, as well as every body else that wants it, can now have plenty of water by applying at the town pump.

G. W. Curtis has dug a well at the Saw Mill, and now he has plenty of water for steam purposes, though the supply that had always been sufficient heretofore had entirely given out, and made it necessary for them to sink it for it.

Capt. W. H. Hardy is back again and tells us that Wells, Fargo & Co. have established an agency at Hardyville. The Railroad Company have an agent at Aubrey, and are building a warehouse. They have had quite a flood at Fred's Wash. The grass is good in Walapai Valley.

C. F. Cate has a $350 set of mink furs at the Nifty Saloon which will be raffled off at $10 a chance. They are brand new, never having been used. Call and examine them and take a chance to win them for your wife or sister, and if you have neither, then for your sweetheart.

The Board of Supervisors this morning ordered bonds of the county, to the amount of $5,000, to be issued to James Patterson on his entering into the contract for building the Bradshaw road. We understand that he has an offer of $24,000 for the dollar for them, but he will not accept unless he proposes to take it or not.

The commutation of the sentence of Leopold Eith, sentenced to be hung for the killing of Lawler, arrived by yesterday's mail. It came in the form of a conditional pardon, and commutes the sentence from that of death to imprisonment for life provided Eith accepts the change. We have not heard, as yet, whether it is satisfactory to him or not. We presume he will not reject the proffered terms.

Although greenbacks are, and have been worth 95¢ and 96 cents in San Francisco for the last three months, still the railroad company at Yuma and Ehrenberg only allow our merchants 95 cents, still swindling them out of the pitiful sum of 50 cents, or the $100. It does not amount to much, still it is wrong and the $5 on the thousand as just as good for the merchant as it is for the monopoly.

A story came to town yesterday, that the young friend, Chas. Goldman, the merchant and hay contractor, at Williamson Valley, had gone and got married, but upon inquiry from those of his more intimate friends, who ought to know best, we are inclined to think it a mistake. If it is not true the party who told it in town, evidently thought he was perpetrating a huge joke on the boys.

We have suggested to Judge Tweed the propriety of having Anton Weis arrested on a charge of attempting to commit the crime of suicide, provided he don't die, in which case he will have actually committed the crime, but will be beyond the reach of the Court.

The Judge seems to be of the opinion that if he survives the shot he ought to be killed in some way, but is in doubt as to the power of the Court to order it done.

A small party of the descendants of the Arteez race, viz. Moquis, who live in pueblos, much after the manner of the Zunis, over near the line of New Mexico, are in town scavenging the streets and alleys in quest of cast-off boots, clothing, etc., and don't mind finding a cold potato, crust of bread or bone with meat on it, thrown out back of the kitchen by the cook.

The Moquis, like the Zunis, Pimas, Xaricopas, etc., are set down as quasi-civilized, but if they are much in advance of the Apaches they fail to manifest it when abroad.

Shot Himself.

A little while before ten o'clock this morning the report of a pistol was heard in a shed or outhouse in the rear of Ralib's brewery, and not more than fifty feet from where we write. The men at work at the brewery went to see what had caused it and found a German who afterwards gave his name as Anton Weis lying near the shed with a bullet hole in his forehead. A small Colt's revolver was by his side and when spoken to was still rational, and hopes were entertained that he might recover. He had been about the place for several days, but being a stranger it seems that no one had learned his name, and on being asked in German he replied that he would tell no one his name. Afterwards, however, after Dr. Kendall had arrived and probed the wound, he was again asked and said his name was Anton Weis and that he was a native of Bavaria. He is apparently between 30 and 40 years of age, rather under the average size of men, dark complexion and black hair and whiskers, etc. The ball, which was a small one, seems to have struck him between the eyes and runged downward. He showed no regrets at what he had done and asked for poison in order to finish the job. It seems strange that the good things of this world are so unequally divided, while a majority of people are employing every means to preserve their health and prolong their lives, there are others who have more than they want of life and resort to means like this to rid themselves of it as though it were a burden. This is evidently the first time he ever killed himself or he would not have charged the pistol with a single buckshot. He is still alive.

Turkey Creek.

Scott & Wells are running two arastras on the Morningglory, near the Turkey Creek Station, and making a success on rock which in their first clean-up yielded only $26 per ton.

John Holmes is still sinking on the Goodwin, near the mouth of his tunnel, and taking out good rock.

Aggie is now down on his second hundred feet, on the same ledge for Masterson, and is also doing assessment work on the Colyer ground.

The Kethro boys have a shaft down thirty feet on the Silver Joe, and are making arrangements to go down a hundred feet.

There is very little water in the creek, less in fact than was ever known by white people. The well at the Station still has about six feet of water in it, and the spring, back of the house, still runs, but not very strong.

Murphy is sinking on the Herbert lead.

MONDAY.

Genung's ox train came in to-day and unloaded hay for the quartermaster.

William Gilson, of Date Creek, is in Prescott and represents the country all alike where ever he has been, that is to say dried up. Cattle and other stock are confined to narrow ranges where they can get water, and this is shortening the feed and cattle are getting thin.

From a private letter written to us by our old friend Thomas Graves, we learn that he is furnishing the King mine folks and the citizens of Pioneer district with fat beef. Mr. Graves thinks the prospects in that district are looking up.

C. P. Stanton, a witness in the Partridge-Wilson homicide case came in, to-day, from Antelope bringing in the sledge hammer handle that Mr. Wilson attacked Mr. Partridge with, which to us looked about as dangerous a weapon as a pistol or gun.

Felix Doss, advertiser his tonsorial parlors to-day. He has established himself near the Court house where he is prepared to do strictly first class work. All he asks is that people will give him a trial so that he may prove to them that he is thorough in his business.

Joe Forshee has been out hunting for a bonanza, and has brought in some specimens for analysis, but is not sure how valuable a find he has made as yet. Joe is an old bird and not easily caught with chaff, therefore if he plants on a discovery it will be apt to be a good one.

Parties who purposely or through carelessness put out fire in the woods should remember that there is a strict law for their punishment, and if they are found out at it there are plenty of people sufficiently interested in the preservation both of the grass and timber to prosecute them to the extent of the law.

Henry Herbert is in from Bradshaw and says Holm's machinery will arrive this week and they will be ready to go to work on the Tiger next Monday. This is business, and the first steam hoisting works ever brought into this part of the Territory, if not the very first in Arizona.

Henry Wickenburg brought a load of potatoes to town on Saturday and took the first offer, eight cents per pound. Robert Garfield followed him but a few hours with another load and by looking about a little, before selling, easily got ten cents for his lot. The moral of this is: "Always look before you leap." Two cents per pound on a load of potatoes, say forty hundred amounts to twenty dollars, a sum worth looking around for.

DISTRICT COURT.—In the District Court this morning, Judge Tweed presiding, the case of William Partridge, charged by the Grand Jury with the killing of G. H. Wilson, was called. Benjamin Morgan, for defendant, and Paul Weber, District Attorney, assisted by Hon. Hugh Farley, for the people.

Morgan moved for a continuance to allow time to procure witnesses. The motion was denied, and the case proceeded with. A jury to try the case was impaneled this afternoon.

SMOKE.—The mountains were enveloped this morning in a dense cloud of smoke, evidently an effect of the burning timber between here and Lynx Creek, and out in the direction of Hasyagampa.

Last night, and the night before, the fire was plainly visible from town, having climbed the ridge from the direction of Lynx Creek, and located itself temporarily on the highest point of the range in sight of Prescott, say from three to four miles distant.

C. W. Crane, Agent in San Francisco for the MINER, is receiving compliments from all the country papers for which he is acting. His close attention and prompt manner of doing business is so much at variance with the usual course of advertising agents, in refusing or neglecting to remit amounts due publishers, that it is a pleasure for us to join in words of commendation. His office is removed to room No. 10 Safe Deposit Building, 328 Montgomery street.

Fifth and offensive affluvia, as all the doctors agree, are very detrimental to health, and it is suggested to us by some of the medical profession that people ought to be reminded of their duty to clean up their premises and haul the fifth away. Vaults should be frequently attended to during this dry hot weather. Lime and copers should be freely used and whitewash resorted to as much as possible. Dry earth is an excellent absorbent, and where lime is hard to get use dirt and cover up such deposits as cannot be removed conveniently. Too much care cannot be taken in order to prevent sickness.

Anton Weis, who shot himself in the head on Saturday with suicidal intent, seems to have made a failure of that as of everything else; at any rate Dr. Day informs us that he is up and walking about this morning with, at least, an even chance to get well.

Perhaps this little experience may do him good, and make a man of him. The ball is still in his head, and the Dr. thinks it would not be good surgery to go cutting after it, as long as he seems to be recovering, and retains his senses. It is evident that the brain has not been touched, and as the ball is a small one, it may have lodged where it will do no special harm.

HOSPITAL.—Dr. W. E. Day has supplied a want that has long been felt in Prescott, viz. the establishment of a hospital, or infirmary where the sick and wounded can be taken care of. He has leased from J. L. Fisher, the property formerly occupied by Armstrong as a paint shop and afterwards as the Enterprise printing office, on Cortez street, near Carleton. Bender is Chief Hospital Steward, and when the hospital fills up with the unfortunate it is presumed the Florence Nightingales of Prescott will make their daily rounds of the wards cheering the disconsolate and administering comfort and encouragement. The Dr. has purchased a complete outfit of new clean beds and other necessities for the sick and proposes to make his charges moderate.

It is not often that we are accused of misrepresentation, and when such an accusation is made it is a pleasure to know that our accusers, and not the MINER, are in the wrong.

On Saturday we were rather glad, for his sake, that Anton Weis, who had attempted to kill himself, had the excuse of drunkenness to account for so rash and unresponsible an act. Accordingly we said that he was "a victim of whisky," without pretending to know what brand of whisky, or who sold it or gave it to him. All we attempted to tell, as a matter of news, and in justice to the victim, was that he had been drunk the night before, and as a result of said drunkenness had become tired and disgusted with life, and shot himself in the head.

To this view of the case some of our neighbors took exception, and seemed to think we had started out to "run a muck" against whisky. Now the fact is we did not blame the whisky, nor the man that made it or sold it. Everybody knows what whisky will do if it is a chance, and the man who drinks it is the one to look out for himself, but sometimes they fail to use the necessary precaution until the habits of drinking become a disease as was evidently the case with Weis, and it is a comfort to know that he had such a disease, rather than that he should have gone in his cool senses and tried to take his own life.

Our subsequent investigation has proven that we were entirely right in the premises, and that he was not only a drowsy and drunk man, but had been taken away from the gambling tables down town, where he was making so much disturbance that quiet well disposed persons were unable to gamble in peace.

TRIED TO BREAK JAIL.—M. A. VANCE, convicted last week of robbing the stage and mail at Woolsey Canyon, last winter, and J. A. Lewis, accused by the Grand Jury of murdering his wife, were discovered this morning in the act of trying to escape from the County Jail. The logs of which the floor is constructed, as we have several times had occasion to remark, are quite rotten, and can almost be dug away with the naked hands. These two prisoners were aware of the vulnerable character of the barrier that stood between them and their liberty, and had by some means become possessed of an old knife-blade with which they succeeded in removing a section of the floor, large enough to admit the body of a man, and had worked their way out, carrying away the dirt with them, and in order to get a hole open to the outside, had succeeded in getting daylight through when the guard, Kogstad, whom they supposed to be asleep, but who was, in reality, watching them all the while, told them they had gone far enough, and would have to give up the job.

LIFE SENTENCE OF BERRY.—Thomas Berry, an accomplice of Milton A. Vance, in robbing the U. S. Mail last January, received his sentence this morning through his attorney, C. A. Tweed. Prior to passing sentence on the prisoner, Judge Tweed referred to the great crime, connected with the robbery of the U. S. Mails, which contain correspondence of great variety and sacrosanct, which are supposed to be protected according to their sacredness and value. The following is the sentence:

It remains but for me to pronounce the sentence of the law, which is, that you, Thomas Berry, are guilty of robbing the United States Mail, from the carrier thereof, by the use of dangerous weapons, and of putting his life in jeopardy in effecting such robbery, and that you be punished therefore by imprisonment, at hard labor for life, and during the term of your natural life.

NEW BUILDINGS.—The laying of the walls for our new county buildings commenced this morning in earnest. The walls are to be built, about 4 feet ten inches from the basement to the top of the ground with heavy granite stone, with corners 12½" built of cut sandstone, which are to be built about 5 feet high, where the brick work commences for the two upper stories. When this building is completed it cannot fail to present an appearance unsurpassed by any building in the Territory. George Winters, a good mechanic, is the Superintendent of the construction, and we venture the assertion that anything entrusted to George will be done right.

Mr. Thompson, of Thompson Valley, while coming down the grade opposite Judge Fleury's residence, yesterday, with a spring wagon loaded with melons, etc., lost control of his team, tipped over, broke up a large number of melons, injured the wagon and slightly bruised himself. He had hauled the load about fifty miles and was nearly to his journey's end when this disaster overtook him. We were not present to hear what he had to say, but by his language was not so gentle as the telling of a clowning dove he ought to be excused, considering the aggravating circumstances that surrounded him. We observed quite a number of little people collecting about the scene of the disaster, and seeming to sympathize deeply with Mr. Thompson in his misfortune.

THE ORIGINAL MAN.—Harpe's monthly for August has a good caricature on the Darwinian theory of evolution. It represents a Chimpanzee female infant born with a short tail, which its maternal parent discovers, with true motherly instinct, to be an outgrowth of evolution, and that through her husband for her daughter among the baboon tribe and they have an offspring which puzzles all the Chimpanzee and baboon scientists to classify. They finally conclude to call it man. It is on this theory that Mr. Underwood, of Denver, bases his lecture, an extract from which we copy today.

The Sutor tunnel when completed will have cost three and a half millions of dollars, and will be three and a half miles long. The cost on an average amounts to one million per mile.
